

Giannakaki Elina

Elina Giannakaki is Assistance Professor at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Greece, Department of Physics of Physics, Section of Environmental Physics-Meteorology. She was born in Thessaloniki, Greece. She received her B.Sc. in Physics (2002), her M.Sc. in Environmental Physics (2004) and her PhD in Atmospheric Physics (2009) from University of Thessaloniki, Greece. She performed postgraduate research in Leibniz TROPOS, Leipzig, Germany (2009 - 2010) and in Finnish Meteorological Institute, Kuopio, Finland. She was tenured as Lecturer at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens in 2014. Her research focuses on lidar measurements of the atmospheric Raman scattering in the UV and VIS and retrieval of micro-physical properties using inversion techniques. She has published 52 papers in international journals and 168 in conference proceedings . Her published work has more than 1700 citations (excluding self citations) with H-index 22. She supervised 16 postgraduate dissertations and participated in 17 projects (in 5 of them was coordinator). She is member of the Editorial Board of the journal Atmposphere, and contributed as referee in 8 scientific journals.